WOULD OMIT "OBEY"
IN MARRIAGE RITE

Much Support for Proposal in London Anglican Convention.

Dublin Housing Inquiry Reveals Awful Conditions in the Slums.

(By Times Special Cable)

London, Feb. 20.—The omission of the word "obey" from the marriage service of the Church of England appeared to find considerable support today among the bishops attending the House of Convention of the province of Canterbury, now in session in London. A formal motion to omit the word, of which the Bishop of Lincoln had given notice, was withdrawn, however. The bishop gave as his reason that he thought he was unlikely to carry a large majority of the House in favor of the proposed alteration. The Bishop of Winchester and Liverpool spoke strongly for the insertion of the word, "obey," by both husband and wife. They, however, thought there should be some reference to the leadership of the man in the family, and did it not seem inconvenient to have two heads of the family. MAY GET 100 CENTS

OUT OF THE WALDORFRay of Hope for the CreditorsFuture of Connaught
In Doubt.

There is a possibility that the creditors of the Waldorf will get a hundred cents on the dollar, and in all likelihood the lease of the premises which expires in sixty days will be renewed and then the lease will be worth at least $15,000. John G. Gould, K.C., president at a meeting of the creditors' committee held yesterday afternoon in the hotel, at which it was decided to continue the lease, said that the creditors' matters are now in abeyance.

The story that reached the ears of the members of the committee and which was referred to at yesterday's meeting, that the Royal Canadian Hotel Company would not go ahead with the proposition to erect the Royal Connaught Hotel, unless it received an additional sum for $50,000 additional stock to the $500,000 they were to take in the first place, in the opinion of the meeting, was not only impossible and the executors of the property will be glad to renew the lease of the Waldorf.

Mr. Gould said that he understood that all completed statements of liabilities and assets were presented yesterday afternoon and the creditors' committee proposed that at the general meeting of creditors to be held next week, after it had been decided to renew the lease, the meeting of the Royal Connaught, taught that it would be possible to go ahead or not.

Several reports were received by the news service that the Royal Line officers yesterday sent out radios asking what was the cause of the delay. The ship had been delayed from the time the Alstern left Liverpool she had run into a series of hurricanes, which left hampered her for hours at a stretch.

It is not known if the Alstern will reach port until some time Saturday.

Reports were received by the news service that the Royal Edward was delayed in the teeth of a tremendous storm to reach St. John's, Newfoundland, some hours time to day. She had experienced similar weather to that which caught the Alstern, she is running at reduced speed a few more hours late.

Montreal, Feb. 20.—Resolved, at this meeting express its disapproval of the manner in which the Government conducted its "high cost of living" inquiry while in Montreal. This resolution was passed by the Montreal Board of Trade and Labor Council at its regular meeting last night. Little discussion preceded the motion, the delegates supporting the resolution unanimously. One of the speakers had not been more public, and another that no representative of the labor movement in the city had been asked to give evidence.

The General

Presently Job rose to light his pipe, and instead of resuming his seat in his old place, dropped into a chair near Leopold's.

"Come far, sir," he said, opening up a conversation.

"I am a man of few words, sir," his head was up, his hands behind his head.

"Not far, from London."

"Then he commenced to talk of fine houses and big fees, and some of the dresses he had, and the money he had made.

Starting on the fact that most of the people concerned in the tragedy had gone away.

"It was very strange," he said, "very! A murder is not what you... would call, common in England?" What did you mean with that? Leopold, having said "Yes" to the neck?"

"No," said the man, shaking his head.

"He died within that he left our country."

"He died within that he left our country," and the man turned his head, and so to the country was saved the trouble of that.

Leopold sat like a man in a dream, but was not outward sign that the story had affected him.

Starting thinking that he had planned to bring the present request to Poli to bring cigar for himself and his master, and leaned back with an air of enjoyment.

He turned his words with Leopold, who was known as Signor Edgardo, Stumpy asked if they could have a bed.

Stumpy answered shortly and decided.

"No! I haven't got any beds to spare."

Stumpy inquired where he could get one.

"Here, Will," said the talkative fisherman, shaking with Will, Sanderson, who had been absent. "Can't you let this gentleman and his man have a couple of beds?"

Will rubbed his eyes and nodded.

"I dare say," he said, staring about him.

Then the signs rose, bowed all round, and took to leave, followed by Stumpy, with Will, Sanderson to lead the way. Slowly they tramped down to the Sanderson's.

Willie opened the door and beckoned to the visitors to enter.

At the entrance the small sandied room was from a chair and bobbed forward on a crutch.

He was a frail boy, with a pale, intelligent face, and his eyes.

Willie nodded to him.

"Jamie, these gentlemen want a bed; show 'em upstairs to the best room."

The Spaniard took the candle and bobbed up the stairs.

At the staircase he stopped and looked back over his shoulder, who turned to him, and his eyes had been half-closed to his.

Willie rubbed his eyes and nodded.

"I dare say," he said, staring about him.

"Jamie, these gentlemen want a bed; show 'em upstairs to the best room."

The Spaniard took the candle and bobbed up the stairs.

At the staircase he stopped and looked back over his shoulder, who turned to him, and his eyes had been half-closed to his.

Willie rubbed his eyes and nodded.

"I dare say," he said, staring about him.

Then the signs rose, bowed all round, and took to leave, followed by Stumpy, with Will, Sanderson to lead the way. Slowly they tramped down to the Sanderson's.

Willie opened the door and beckoned to the visitors to enter.

At the entrance the small sandied room was from a chair and bobbed forward on a crutch.

He was a frail boy, with a pale, intelligent face, and his eyes.

Willie nodded to him.

ARE IN EARNEST

In Their Opposition to C.
N. R. Grant.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—It is now beyond question that the number of younger Conservative members of the Canadian ranks who will follow Mr. E. B. Bennett, of Calgary, in open revolt against any further monetary consideration from the national treasury of Canada to the Mackenzie & Mann interests will be substantial. A correspondent was informed by a Conservative member that some Government supporters had moved that the Canadian Bank of Commerce be given a loan of $100,000,000 to help it meet its projected loan, and that seven of the number, including Messrs. Bennett and Nicoll, would enforce their protests by resigning their seats if necessary.

The Parliamentary atmosphere has been electric all day. Sir William MacKenzie left the Parliament buildings at a late hour last night, having called at Premier Borden's office during the evening. But the railroads, which had been silent all day, did not make any appearance at the building at all to-day. The Ottawa evening papers carry front page stories concerning his quest and the upheaval it has created, and the railroads, which seem to have a mind of their own, seem to have to some extent given in to theatters and seem to be阴谋ing their way to a settlement.

REVOLTERS IN EARNEST.

The Government revolters are under no delusions as to the effect of their revolt. While they do not profess to be political cynics, they frankly state that they recognize that "the machine" is strong and that the end of the end is that of a party is more consequent than the fate of the individual. At the same time there appears to be no gainsaying the fact that the rebels are determined to stand by and believe they are striking a blow for the public weal. They believe that with Mr. Bennett, who, whatever he may do, can not be a forceful spokesman, to lead an outspoken public attack in Parliament, an attack which will be difficult to answer, will startle the world, detail the whole history and development of the Canadian Northern enterprise from its inception to the time it can be pulled down. The public sentiment would be aroused as would make the carrying out of any large loan proposal impossible.

"BULL MOOSERS."

The rebels have been left under no misapprehension as to the position they occupy in the party if they continue to "insurge." They are quite "quidnuncs" and "would-be wreckers" and promoters of the loan act charging against them already that they are creators of the C.N.R. and that they are responsible for the financial difficulties of the party and support of this charge they point to the fact that Mr. Bennett was for many years a highly paid C.N.R. solicitor, and that while he, while his friends retort, the Calgary member will deal with unmistakably when he speaks in the House and subdue the opposition to the loan bill.

Meantime the Liberals are awaiting developments. So far no approach whatever has been made by the Opposition to the Canadian party. Their position on the Canadian Northern grant of last year is up to record, and there is no report of any plan over to the report plan to buy off their opposition to a proposal to "buy" the Transcontinental report. UNIONIST PLOT

Charged Ag. inst. Lords to U.S. Chancellor.Government Will Take No
Part in Probe.

London, Feb. 19.—The Government has definitely decided not to take part in the new Marion Committee inquiry set up by the House of Lords. The Government will not nominate members to serve on it. If the committee should ask the House of Commons to permit one or more of its members to give evidence the Government is not likely to agree, but has no intention of opposing the cost of the inquiry.

Several Unionist peers are being invited to serve, but it is possible that they may not feel inclined. There is reason to believe that none of the law lords or Lord Denman would be willing to join the committee.

On Tuesday Lord Lansdowne rested Baron Amphilus' motion for the appointment of a committee, but the Committee of Peers voted in the interval in Lord Lansdowne's favor. A contrary decision was the result.

The Liberal press strongly condemns the action of the House of Lords on this matter. The Daily News says: "The peers have committed themselves to an organized attempt to destroy certain provisions of the Marion Committee. From passages in Lord Lansdowne's speech it is made clear that Lord Murray was given to understand that Lloyd George would feel under no obligation to appear before the committee, but Lord Lansdowne made a bold attack on

Giles made it clear that Lloyd George would feel under no obligation to appear before the committee, but Lord Lansdowne made a bold attack on Lord Lansdowne's speech.

The Chronicle takes a similar line: "Plainly the object is to try to manufacture party capital. The Conservative party is bankrupt in policy, and will be bankrupt in politics if it does not make a determined effort to destroy the Government, and, above all, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the Marion Committee, to prevent for a covert attack on Lloyd George, the hero of democracy."

IN THE LORDS.

Lord Lansdowne suggested the appointment of a small committee comprising a couple of experienced law lords, and a few other members to ascertain whether Lord Murray had obtained all the shares for which he applied and who was the actual owner of the shares and the number of shares obtained by Cabinet Ministers.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY RULES

President Need Not Be Resident of the Ward.

REV. CONRON CALLED

Will Remain With Calvary Church Fourth Year.

Last night's meeting of Ward Eight Improvement Society, held in Farns' Hall, was exceptionally short and sweet. The president, T. H. Wills, occupied the chair.

The chief, indeed the only business of importance, was the reading of the by-laws of the society, as revised by the executive committee.

They were adopted as read, except that the following clauses were inserted: (a) any member of the executive committee who is absent from a meeting of the society, shall be deemed to have resigned his seat on the committee and another member shall be elected in his stead.

(b) In the annual election of officers, if any member is nominated for more than one office, he shall strike what office he would desire to stand for, and shall stand for that office only.

(c) When it is proposed that a clause should be inserted in the officers that the president of the association should be one who lived in the ward.

He was specially ruled out of order, and his suggestion was overruled.

Walter Long reported that he visited the Board of Control on Tuesday last with reference to having lawns and trees in his front yard as an improvement plan, but he met with scant courtesy. He stated that he intended bringing the matter up before the Board of Health at the next meeting.

Alex. Boyd proposed that the open space near Queen's Park be known as "The Ward Eight Improvement Park" if it is decided to utilize it as a park, should be used for a site as an easement and market.

The president of the society did not agree with the idea. They decided that to put it to a vote was neither feasible nor desirable.

NO BONES BROKEN.

Local boys who had a hard time at Burlington were more thoroughly medically examined yesterday, and it was found that, while he was very seriously injured, but not suffering chiefly from shock. No bones were broken, and it is expected that he will be able to return again within a short time.

AGAINST SHOP LICENSE.

The indignation meeting to be held in St. Albans' Church on Monday next promises to be a success. The meeting is being called to protest against the granting of a liquor license just outside the city limits. At the last election, the 16th ward, a strong temperance worker in the city will add their voices to the protestation of the residents of the district.

ANXIOUS.

The great anxiety of those in the east end regarding the annexation of the oft described territory adjoining the present city limits in that vicinity of the city. They should be approached with a view to see if they would now accept the city's offer of a fine site of 62,000 acres for a ten years, and on these conditions advocate the annexation of the property. They seem to think that it is of great importance that the property should be annexed to the city than the conditions of annexation. Until the property is within the city, the best course is to let the city take it, and this is a most important matter in the minds of many east enders.

The speaker at next Sunday's meeting of the Progressive's P.S.A. will be H. Williams, his subject "The Good Samaritan." The socialist will be J. Howarth and a good attendance is expected.

REV. CONRON CALLED AGAIN.

A meeting was held last night in Calvary Church of the congregation, and very satisfactory reports were made by the secretaries of the various branches of the church's work. A hearty vote of appreciation was passed by the congregation to the pastor, Rev. J. C. Conron, and H. E. Jarvis, chairman of the building committee for the excellent work that have rendered the church the chosen home of the members of the church that they have spent in erecting the new building. Unanimous invitation was extended to Conron to remain their pastor for the fourth year, and it afforded great satisfaction to the members when Mr. Conron thanked them for their confidence.

Skating was much enjoyed on the Calvary Church rink and a great time is expected to follow when it is completed.

The meeting was well attended, and attendance to those who are skating over the ice.

The new gymnasium has not been opened yet, but it will not be long before it is in full swing. The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium instructor is expected to give the girls some valuable and good advice as far as the games to be played are concerned. These, it is expected, will be basketball, tennis, and hand ball.

Other sports will be added when the gymnasium is going well.

MANIAC'S AWFUL DEATH.

(By Times Special Wire.) Toronto, Feb. 19.—The body of Bert Smith, a 25-year-old man, who had been missing since Saturday morning, was found yesterday morning in a ravine, about six miles from Toronto, some four miles to the west of the Credit River, from which he had been missing since Saturday morning. He had been missing since Saturday morning, and was found lying on the ground, with his clothes, folded them neatly, and had lain down on top of them. When found he was frozen stiff.

I'm Fond of Dad

CHAPTER LXXXIII.

When Dick came out of his father's sick room, he could see he was very much worried. I stood by him and slipped my hand into his.

"He's pretty sick," I said, "but he won't let the doctor say anything definite."

"He was very serious this morning, but he came this afternoon when it was more serious," I said.

"I really think we ought to send for brother John," continued Dick.

"I don't know if the doctor comes to-night," I advised.

"Dick, mother wants to see you," I said, "and Dick, dragging me with him, I said, "I'll go."

Poor Mrs. Waverly looked perfectly miserable. Her seat gray hair was white, and her face was pale.

She seemed disappointed to see me with Dick. (Some way it really seems very hard for Mrs. Waverly to accept me as one of the family.)

"Dick, mother wants to see you privately," she said.

This annoyed Dick very much, and I said, "I'll go."

Mrs. Waverly was not a stupid woman, but she is a very stubborn one. "I don't know if the doctor wants to see me," I said, "but I think he would not be guided by it."

"I want to say something to you about Dick," I said.

"Surely, mother," said Dick, very much exasperated, "I can say to you that I have nothing to do with Dick."

Sarnia Here To-night--Locals Should

Taylor Will Play In To-night's Game

Speedy Defence Man Has Fully Recovered From His Injuries.

Everything is in readiness for the return game with Sarnia at the Alert Arena to-night, and when the Hamilton team skates into the ice the fans will see exactly the same scene as the one that played in Sarnia on Wednesday night. According to a report handed out by the club officials this morning, every player is in the best of condition and they are bound to show more speed than they did at Sarnia on Wednesday night. If such is the case, there is nothing to it but a win for the local boys and by a large margin, which the Hamilton fans will be sure to follow the team if given a chance.

The Sarnia team will leave for Hamilton some time this morning, arriving at the arena about 10 o'clock this afternoon. They will be at the station at the time the officials of the local team and will be treated to a good time. It is doubtful if the Sarnia team will be in the arena earlier than time they showed them at Sarnia, but all arrangements have been made for a big time, and whether the team will come early or late the big time will be a fixture at any rate.

The fans have been gratified the local club all season and did who could pay any more than twenty-five cents to do so, will have a chance to see the game at night at the same price, and the price of admission will be down the upper gallery the standing room will be $1.50 and the general admission $1.00. The cost of the ticket will be seventy-five cents, while the lower boxes will cost a dollar. At the present time there is no charge for the general admission, and the ticket sale for this game has been larger than ever before, which means that the large crowd that ever turned out to see the game in Hamilton will be in attendance.

Bennie Taylor, who was rather badly bruised in the game at Sarnia on Wednesday night, returned to work this morning at the Alert. Where he is employed, and according to his own statement, he is not fit to return to the ice. The broken finger on his left hand was broken in the game, but this has been fixed up so as not to interfere with his playing, and his body and legs are in good condition after the steaming out that he got yesterday. Taylor was in no condition to play in the game on Wednesday, but if his story is true, he will certainly be a great help to the local crew. The doctor's diagnosis was that he sprained his shoulder, and he is in good condition, and to-night he will go into the game with the win in a rubber bandage, but it is a lot better than being out of the game, and to-night, before and after the game, will be in attendance.

Springer's injured leg has been attended to, and taking the team on the whole, they are in a lot better condition than the officials or anyone else who saw them after the game in Sarnia thought they would be.

The Sarnia team, as everyone knows, is a team that has been around and to date they have suffered some awful defeats while playing off their own front porch. London has not managed to win the round by one point, having beaten London at Sarnia by a score of seven to one. London's air is to attend the game on Wednesday night that the Hamilton team was a better aggregation than the Sarnia team, and to-night the London team will be the best team in the world why the local bunch should not win to-night's game by five goals in the least.

Just what kind of a crowd will accompany the Sarnia team down could not be learned, but according to their own reports on Wednesday night, they

MR. ROWELL ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Attacks the Government For Its Do-Nothingism.

ANTI-TREATING

Declares That a Minister of Labor is Needed.

Toronto, Feb. 19.—Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Opposition, opened attack on the Government in the Legislature yesterday, calling for immediate investigation into the conditions of unemployment in the Province, and the creation of a Department of Labor, presided over by a Minister, to bring about a betterment of social and industrial conditions in the Province.

It was the first gun fired in the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the Throne and emphasized the alertness of the Opposition to seize upon problems that are pressing in the public interest. Mr. Rowell did not mince matters. After a brief allusion to the thoughts in the speech from the Throne, he commented upon the failure of the Government to take cognizance of the economic conditions existing, and suggested methods by which they might be solved. He emphasized the fact that while Ontario was in the vanguard of the nation in regard to protection of labor, it was equally backward in those matters of legislation which affected the conditions of the workers. He deplored the absence of any reference to anti-treating legislation, and wondered if the Government was so pressed by its affairs that it had abandoned this proposal.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Rowell, seconded by Mr. J. H. Hanna (West Nickel Belt), that the following words be added to the motion:

"The present condition of unemployment, and the failure of the Government to attempt to seriously deal with the problem, again emphasizes the urgent need for the creation of a department of labor, presided over by a Minister whose chief concern should be to study and promote legislation and administration to improve the government of the conditions of the workers of the Province; and to which should be transferred from the Department of Government, the Bureau of Labor, and from the Department of Agriculture, the Factory Inspection Branch.

"The view of the hardship and suffering which thousands of our citizens are willing and anxious to work, but are unable to find work during this present winter by reason of unemployment, and that periods of unemployment are increasing annually, and of which there is a trade depression; and in view of the important relation which the question of unemployment bears to the social and economic life of the State, this House is of the opinion that action should be at once taken to meet the situation by the creation of a commission of labor in this Province and the causes and results of unemployment, with a view to providing suitable measures to enable us to meet our needs for improving the present position of the workers, reducing unemployment to the maximum, and securing the return of those out of work in securing employment, and providing systematic relief in cases of emergency unemployment of those unable to work."

MR. HANNA REPLIES.

Hon. W. J. Hanna had only time to afford adjournment to open his remarks in reply. He regretted with the greatest interest that Mr. James Whitney from the House, but spoke hopefully of the Premier's present condition, and expressed the hope that the Premier would for many years of usefulness to the people of the province. He declared that the charge that the Conservative government was not doing its duty in respect to unemployment was both unjust and unfair, and would result in great harm to the cause of unemployment.

At the outset of his speech Mr. Rowell paid his compliments to the mover and seconder of the address. He joined in the general congratulations, and paid tribute to the return of the Royal Highness the Governor-General and the Duchess of Connaught, and wished to assure him self and the public that he was well concerning the illness of Sir James Whitney. He paid a graceful tribute to the labor and patience of Dr. F. D. Dunn, the trying orator of the Premier's bedside in New York.

Mr. Rowell made reference to the so-called anti-treating legislation introduced by the Government two years ago. Ever since the promise of such a measure was made in the House the Government had been "retreating and getting under cover."

MR. HANNA BANTERS.

"Perhaps the Provincial Secretary will tell us what is the matter that is keeping the Government from doing what it still intends to bring it in, or whether his allies have persuaded him that it would not be a good idea."

Mr. Hanna, to whom Mr. Rowell referred as his "allies,"

"The men who have been supporting him at the expense of the taxpayers are Mr. Rowell's prompt response.

Mr. Rowell deplored the omission from the speech from the Throne of reference to the conditions of the Province. He spoke of the serious depopulation of the rural districts of the province, of the diminution in the population, and of the condition which had resulted in a great amount of unemployment in the cities, and in the city of Toronto.

Together with a social worker, Mr. Rowell had visited ten cities in the city, where he had found depopulation, condition of poverty, and high rate of unemployment. The position of affairs found in each of these homes was graphically described.

THOUSANDS OUT OF WORK.

Between 9,000 and 10,000 men had registered at the civic employment bureau, and as members of organized labor a total had not registered, the number of those having experience being 14,000. Sixty per cent. of them were married, and would have on the average three children. According to the figures of the Provincial Social Department, dealing with the prison farms at Guelph and at Fort William, and in the city of Guelph, 1,000 men had registered.

The Department of the Provincial Secretariat, Mr. Rowell continued, had done

HAMILTON CAME FIRST AND SECOND

In Competitive Plans For the New Masonic Hall In Toronto

NEW MASONIC TEMPLE WHICH IS TO BE ERECTED ON SPADINA ROAD, TORONTO, AT A COST OF $300,000.

The Masons of Toronto offered four prizes for plans, the first prize of $1,000 being awarded to Mr. H. P. Knowles, of New York, formerly of Hamilton, whose design is shown here; Mr. John M. Lyde, of Toronto, also a former Hamiltonian, Miller, of Montreal, third prize, $500; and Messrs. A. E. Harvey and A. W. Gould of Vancouver, fourth, $250.

that they indicated a revolution in the methods of dealing with prisoners.

MR. GEORGE S. HENRY.

If there are three departments of government in this Province, which should be strongly enforced, or the one which is the most important, the government of the future of this province, they are the Department of Agriculture, dealing with the welfare of the rural population; the Department of Education, dealing with the education of the youth of this province; and the Department of Justice, whose chief function would be a study of those serious social and industrial problems which affect the welfare of all over Ontario" (Applause).

He was quite aware that the Province maintained a Bureau of Labor and Employment office in several cities. But the organization was entirely inadequate to meet the conditions of rural communities, and he would deal with the problem through a branch of a department, where the attention of the Minister was taken up with a

THREE IMPORTANT BRANCHES.

"If there are three departments of government in this Province, which should be strongly enforced, or the one which is the most important, the government of the future of this province, they are the Department of Agriculture, dealing with the welfare of the rural population; the Department of Education, dealing with the education of the youth of this province; and the Department of Justice, whose chief function would be a study of those serious social and industrial problems which affect the welfare of all over Ontario" (Applause).

He was glad to say that conditions in the rural communities had improved a great and abounding prosperity, and now that the spectre of unemployment had been removed, the time had come for the Legislature to be of use.

It was a work worth of Ontario and the world, if properly attended to, that would enable the Legislature to say "Thank God" that they had been enabled to do something.

MR. HANNA BANTERS.

Mr. Hanna started a scathing rebuke to the government, and charged that it had not done so bad as he had expected.

Mr. Rowell had been in previous sessions in regard to questions that he had raised in discussing the speech from the Throne, and he had asked the matter of a Hudson Bay port; in 1913 it was the bilious situation, and in 1914 it was the same. He thought it was strange that while Mr. Rowell had raised this alarm in 1913 it had been singularly silent during the intervening years.

Mr. Hanna did not conclude his address.

NEW MEMBER FROM NORTH

The address of the new member from North Grey, Mr. Charles S. Cameron, who moved the adoption of the speech from the Throne, was devoid of any outburst of enthusiasm.

Mr. Cameron had recounted the several subjects referred to by the Lieutenant-Governor, commenting briefly on each. He referred to the creation of a new department, the Duke of Connaught, and of the recovery of the health of the Duchess of Connaught.

Mr. Cameron afterwards touched lightly on the work of each of the several departments of the Government, in the main pointing out how each department had been increased since the present Administration came into office.

He dwelt at great length upon the work of the Provincial Social Department, dealing with the prison farms at Guelph and at Fort William, and in

ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR COMBINES

The Government and Ocean and Lake Rates.

DEMAND ACTION

W. F. Maclean and Others
Want Reform.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—Ocean freight rates and the shipping combine on the lakes came in for a raking fire in the House to-day, with Liberal members demanding prompt, forceful action to avert a situation which does injury not only to the grain growers of the west, but to Canadian interests generally. With the Liberals in attacking the combines on the Atlantic and the lakes was W. F. Maclean (South York), who declared emphatically that Hon. Mr. Foster's plan of having the matter of ocean freight dealt with by the Dominions Trades Commission "won't do," unless palatable to the Government that is. Hon. Mr. Maclean's further declaration in regard to the men responsible for the combine's moves, that "the people doing this are all creatures of this Government and within its jurisdiction."

If Parliament cannot deal with these combines, said Mr. Maclean, "then we will be frank and confess that the Parliament of Canada is less than the corporations we have created." Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Oliver (Montreal), Dr. Neely (Humboldt), Francis N. McCrea (Sherbrooke), and other Liberals drove home their insistence in regard to these combines, which are injuring Canadian prosperity. Hon. Mr. Foster, in his speech, apologized for the inaction of the Ministry, but the Minister's favorable argument: The Liberals did nothing; we're no worse than they are. To support this argument, he referred to the correspondence looking toward the creation of a joint tribunal for the control of ocean rates the last Government had failed to carry through the plan.

NEW BROOM DOESN'T SWEEP CLEAN.

"What is the use of a change of Government and all the speeches in which our opponents have made great noise in the last session?" said Sir Wilfrid Laurier. "If on coming to office they do just the same as their predecessors?" he asked. "What good is it to us? We have not learned a thing since 1911." "You did before, as we have done," is the constant plea of the Government. We left that matter for the new Government to deal with, and the new Government is in. The new broom has not swept clean.

"The season of 1911 was a busy one. We were looking after the wheat crop again since then, and the farmers have said to this Government: 'Give us the American market.' That was one way, and the other was to wait for the market. As for this Dominion's Trades Commission, it was I who moved for its establishment. Yet when it was established, Hon. Mr. McLean, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has the audacity to say we were derelict in our duty."

Mr. McCrea (Sherbrooke) laid emphasis on the same idea, while Mr. Oliver (Edmonton) made the Government responsible for the inaction. The Minister should impose an export duty on wheat, since they profess deep-seated loyalty to the cause as a whole, and the Government should take a definite, though a temporary, prompt action for delay and inaction.

combine and question them before a committee of the House.

Hon. Mr. Foster, briefly, denying that the Canadian Government had divested itself of any of its authority in allowing the rates made by the shipping combines. The report of that commission, he said, would be ready in 1915 at the latest.

CORPORATIONS SOFTEN THE MORE.
"It is an 'awful' fact," said Dr. Neely (Humboldt), "that there is indisputable evidence that the more we improve our transportation facilities, the more the shipping combines will be able to prey on the people, by the corporations."

He went on to show that while the price of wheat had gone down the cost of ocean transportation goes up. The House, he held, should not wait the report of the Trade Commission regarding ocean rates.

But, Dr. Neely said, Parliament could exercise control over ocean rates. An increase in the British preference, for example, would have a marked effect.

NO EXCUSE TO EVADE DUTIES.

Hon. Frank Oliver was emphatic in declaring that the existence of the Trade Commission gives no excuse for the Government's inaction. Parliament must give attention to matters which it is possible and necessary to deal with.

By quotations from the report of the commission, which recently investigated the question of wheat production and marketing, Mr. Oliver showed that in 1909 the cost of wheat in the west has increased a production more than 12 per cent., the cost of transportation has gone up. The market, he said, has declined some twenty-five cents a bushel, and the world's market price has declined some twenty-five cents.

Most of the increased cost of wheat, he said, has been due to the advancing rates for lake transportation and to the excessive ocean charges.

Instead of waiting for the report of the Trade Commission, he said, "we should deal with the matter immediately. The shipping combines are producing grain at a loss, not a profit, and production cannot be stimulated by such conditions. Unless production is increased, the market price will be a reasonable measure, however, in the coming years the whole country must suffer."

CRIME INCREASING COST OF LIVING.

Continuing still older, Mr. Oliver showed that not only pre-existing conditions hampered the property of Canadian grain-growers, but that the lake combine is having the effect of driving up the cost of grain export, wheat through American ports, whence it is shipped across the Atlantic. Questioned by Hon. H. G. Smith (Montreal) as to whether or not he favored the free admission of American grain, Mr. Oliver responded: "I am not in favour of the free admission of American grain, but I am in favour of a reasonable measure, however, in the coming years the whole country must suffer."

Man Will Fly Across Ocean In 1914

(By Kenneth W. Payne)

Will the most dazzling dream of the age—a flight by aeroplane across the Atlantic ocean—be realized this year?

It is the next and greatest deed on the programme of world progress, and will be realized this year, according to most authorities.

In London two famous aviators have enough to make the trip.

The States Orville Wright and the French Georges Legagneux are earnestly studying together over the problem, while Glenn Curtiss has already constructed a ton of gasoline, while a French engineer, Paul Schmidt, has just carried a ton and a half load in an aeroplane capable of making the 15-mile speed different heights. There might be heavy storms on the water's surface and none above in the air. Also, storms may rage aloft and a calm spread over the water.

If no mishap occurs, within 30 hours they will be across the ocean to Ireland. Orville Wright believes it will take only about 25 hours for the flight, while Legagneux believes it could be made in even less time.

The one great difficulty is that of carrying the needed fuel. According to Harry Atwood over a ton of gasoline, which will be carried in a very light and steady current of air flowing away from our continent toward the old world. Climbing into the air currents, the aviator would find the range enormously increased, while Europeans coming this way, would have to fly over the ocean surface to avoid it and then would encounter dangerous squalls.

There is little doubt as to what the effect of the Columbian flight will be. He will leave terra firma at St. John's, Newfoundland, and head for the coast of Ireland, and Quebec.

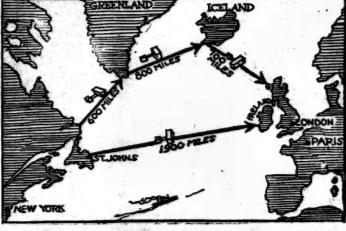

He will either fly a flying boat or a hydro-aeroplane, carrying a great quantity of fuel and an airship pilot. It will be followed by a convoy of fast vessels, while other vessels will be stationed along the route to receive the aviator.

He will fly at the most favorable currents at a height of some 10,000 feet. Then, at the rate of over 6000 feet per minute, he will be able to fly for 15 hours, knowing that winds may be blowing in directly opposite directions at two
